AACA News, Winter to Spring Bulletin 2009

Chief Editor's Message:

This is the 6th edition of AACA News.

Gung Hay Fat Choy and Happy Year of the Ox! Our Board of Directors has remained in place from the previous year. Please join us at our Annual Dinner, and in our future general meetings. We would also welcome any input from our members.

One of the activities the AACA Board does is to continually reach out to local public officials to voice the concerns of our members as local businesses. On February 11, 2009, the AACA Board had a productive meeting with Supervisor Eric Mar where we discussed the various Local Business Enterprise programs, and other ways to ensure that the City utilizes local workers in public works. We thank Supervisor Mar for meeting with us, and this is just one of several future meetings the AACA Board will be having with our local officials to voice our members' concerns.

- Michael L. Mau, Esq., Chief Editor

Recent General Meetings:

In the last several months, AACA has sponsored several general membership meetings with a variety of guest speakers. We thank each of them again for their time. General meetings are open to all and are free for our members, and are usually held at the Four Seas Restaurant in Chinatown. Please join us soon.

On May 14, 2008 we welcomed Mr. Harlan Kelly, Chief of Engineering for the Public Utilities Commission, Mr. Joe Cheung, Deputy Chief of the Bureau of Construction Management, Ms. Virginia Harmon, EO & Diversity Manager of SFMTA, and Mr. John Funghi also from SFMTA. The main topic was getting new public works contracts, and insights were given for these public agencies.

On October 8, 2008, we had a Meet the Candidates night before the general election. Invited guests were Ms. Carmen Chu, Ms. Claudine Cheng, Ms. Sue Lee and others running for local office. We also welcomed representatives from PG&E to discuss their "No on Prop H" campaign.

On December 10, 2008, we had representatives from the Bovis Lend Lease, Inc. speak about upcoming contracting opportunities at the Chinatown / North Beach campus of City College. Mr. Hayden Lee also spoke briefly on DBE/MBE/WBE/SBE/ & LBE certifications, and how these could help you get future work.

Thank you again to all of our guest speakers!
